Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Thursday 18 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Windy with rain at times.

Today:
A windy morning with a short period of heavy rain for all areas, mostly clearing by midday. Thereafter, less windy with sunny spells but a scattering of heavy showers will arrive late afternoon. Feeling cooler than on Wednesday. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Scattered heavy showers at first, gradually easing to leave a dry night with clear spells. Remaining breezy but turning cold in sheltered areas, perhaps with a touch of frost. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Friday:
Quickly becoming windy and damp through Friday morning with outbreaks of rain and drizzle throughout the day, heaviest over the Pennines. Winds will be gusty with gales possible. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Windy on Saturday with early rain perhaps clearing to give some sunshine later. Winds likely easing through Sunday but with rain at times. Generally dry and bright on Monday. Mild.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.